2013 PHILMONT SCOUT RANCH EXPEDITION

Explore the rugged high country of northern New Mexico on a backpacking trek, as a member of a conservation crew, or on an advanced wilderness adventure. Covering more than 137,000 acres of mountains, forests, prairies, and streams, Philmont is an inspiring backpacker's paradise. Staffed camps in the backcountry offer program opportunities including rock climbing, black powder rifle shooting, living history, horseback riding, archeology, conservation, and many others.

Units that are wanting to submit multiple youth and adults for consideration need to return separate applications for each participant. Applications will be reviewed by the Blue Grass Council High Adventure Committee and participants will be notified by March 16, 2012. Selected participants are required to make a deposit of $100 by April 2, 2012. All crews will travel together as a contingent. There will be no separate travel. Transportation will be decided upon by the Blue Grass Council. Be prepared to travel two days prior to arrival and two days after completion of your expedition. Arrival Sunday, June 23, 2013, 12:00 PM CST, and depart 12 days later, Friday, July 5, 2013.
